The benefits of corrugated plastic posters are wellknown. They are extremely weatherproof, non-fading and rigid, light-weight and recyclable. Corrugated plastic posters are ideally suited for use as election posters or for regional advertising, such as event announcements.

The Ellerhold Group is at the forefront when it comes to price and quality: we produce your corrugated plastic posters in offset printing. Your image is printed onto a film, which is then laminated onto a twin-wall sheet. We punch between 10 and 12 holes in your poster so that it can be attached to the advertising surface. We can also supply you with suitable cable ties on request. //
